DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 5-44594 in view of DE 3714687. In regard to claim 1, JP 5-44594 teaches all the claimed limitation except joining a cap of at least one polymer onto at least one of the apertures (abstract; figs 1-6). DE 3714687 teaches a plastics molded protective cover covering fuel pipes (abstract; figs 1-3). JP 5-44594 and DE 3714687 are combinable because they are analogous with respect to fuel distributing pipes. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to join the cover of DE 3714687 onto at least one of the apertures of JP 5-44594 in order protect the apertures of JP 5-44594. In regard to claims 2,3,4,6,7,8, and 9, such are taught by JP 5-44594 (abstract; figs 1-6). In regard to claim 5, such specific designs for the cap and flange around an aperture are mere obvious matter of choice dependent on the desired final product and of little patentable consequence to the claimed process since it is not a manipulative feature or step of the claimed process. Further, the claimed designs are well-known in the molding art and cap art in order to ensure proper closure or capping. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to design the flanges of the aperture and cap of JP 5-44594 (modified) with the claimed features in order to ensure proper capping of the claimed pipes of JP 5-44594. In regard to claims 10-12, joining preforms by the claimed process is well-known in the molding art. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to join the cap onto the flange of the aperture of JP 5-44594 by the claimed process in order to ensure proper and tight bonding.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following patents show the state of the art: USPN 4290456; and JP 2001-20824.
